

I've been a member of the board for the last two years and it is a rewarding way to involve oneself in the school, and contribute to the community. We are a well run, friendly LSC, with efficient monthly meetings. Attendance of these monthly meetings is your only official responsibility as an LSC member. In addition, there are lots of other ways to contribute your particular individual talents to the school. It is essential to have quality leadership running the school, and we have always had friendly, yet competitive, elections in the past.

There are two types of openings:

- Parent LSC Members: you have a child or children attending Goethe Elementary School, including its pre-k, and you want to become involved. There are six of these slots.
- Community LSC Members: You live within Goethe Elementary School's attendance boundaries (Milwaukee, Armitage, Western, ALLTEL and California) and want to be involved. You don't need to have kids attending Goethe, and need not have any children at all, just a desire to serve. There are two of these slots.

I served as a community member the last two years, and enjoyed it thoroughly. As my child is now old-enough to attend Goethe, I will be running for a parent LSC member this year.
